SEDBERGH GALA GROUP

At the AGM of Sedbergh Gala Group, it was decided that the Group could no longer stage the three events it organises due to low numbers of Group members. This means in 2017 there will be no Gala, children's party or fireworks.

The Group office holders have agreed to remain in post, and maintain funds for a period of two years, in case sufficient people come forward to join the Group and start up the events again. Once that time has elapsed, the Group will meet to disseminate its funds to another local organisation, as per the constitution of the Gala Group.

There was much sadness amongst the current members of the Gala Group that this situation had been reached. However, in recent years there have been a number of new initiatives which have brought new events to the town. In a small population like Sedbergh, there are only so many people who are prepared to volunteer to help run events - and without volunteers events cannot be staffed.

Despite this situation, the 2016 fireworks event will take place on Bonfire Night, 5 November. Sadly due to lack of volunteers to prepare and clean up, there will not be a bonfire this year. However the Sedgwick family of Lockbank have kindly agreed that the fireworks can be set off from the field next to Havera Bank as usual, and there will be food and beverages available on the People's Hall car park. Gates open at 6.30pm with fireworks at 7pm and 7.30pm – entrance is free for everyone.

Please do support this final event to be staged by the Sedbergh Gala Group.

TOWN TWINNING ZREČE ARTISTS VISIT

It was a dark and stormy night and the rain came down in torrents .... and it carried on like that for most of the visit of 10 artists from our twin town. Did it dampen our spirits? Thanks to our warm hearted visitors and the efforts of Sedbergh's Art Society and Twinning Group members, not at all!

The travellers and their hosts were treated, on arrival, to a splendid feast at Randall Hill the home of Douglas and Dorothy Thomson. As the meal concluded an accordion miraculously appeared and the merry mood of the visit began in style with a rendering of several Slovenian folksongs.

The next day was spent in the People's Hall where members of the Sedbergh Art Society joined the group for the first of two painting days. Outdoor sketching was thwarted by the elements so Sedbergh calendars and brochures proved useful. Lunch was provided on both days by a band of willing volunteers who brought along a range of goodies.

Our guests arrived at Farfield Mill the next morning for coffee and a tour of the mill followed by a lunch of generous proportions provided by the Weavers Café. We can highly recommend it. Ruth and Stuart of Wickerfish then treated us all to a workshop and some mini masterpieces were completed using inks and chalks.

That evening we headed for Ravenstonedale and Tarn House Farm. The Shields family Helen, Gerry and daughter Clara hosted another memorable evening. Excellent food, drink and a roaring fire provided a very welcome antidote to the wild weather outside.

On Friday the summit of Winder was visible and the sun appeared, albeit in short bursts, to reveal a glimpse of Sedbergh's scenic potential. Paintings were finished off and the town explored. Our guests reported on the friendliness and welcome they received in the various shops despite very little verbal communication being possible. Art and music both rise above such trivialities!

Garth had planned a barbecue and to our relief the skies cleared and the views from his garden and another delicious meal made this a very special event. More singing ensued and this time we Britishers managed to reciprocate with a lively version of Auld Lang Syne.

That evening the Art Society invited the group to a watercolour workshop with Clive Wylie. He had a rapt audience and it was an appropriate conclusion to a very happy week.

Our visitors left in glorious sunshine the next morning, ideal for a scenic trip through the Dales to Leeds Bradford airport after fond and heartfelt farewells all round.

None of this would have been possible without a huge amount of support from members of the Art Society and Twinning Group. Sedbergh School assisted us with a minibus for the week which, with indefatigable driver Dennis, was invaluable and much appreciated. Our visitors' generous hosts at Hylands and Number 10 made them more than welcome.

We are invited to pay a return visit to our twin town next year and any artists, craftspersons, photographers and friends would be very welcome. Please get in touch if you are interested.

SEDBERGH ART SOCIETY

I am still feeling good after meeting and painting with so many lovely people from Zreče, culminating in Friday's demonstration by Clive Wylie and his great workshop the next day. So, thanks to Susan Garnett for creating the opportunity to meet some of the people from our twin town in Slovenia.

It was good to watch and hear from a pure watercolourist, who achieves all his effects just with his brush - and lots of water! Clive's colours are very delicate and harmonious and his finished paintings are beautiful to see. You can visit his website at www.clivewylieartist.com

Chris Chambers screened the whole demonstration for us and is creating a DVD to send to our friends in Zreče along with the notes I made. It was wonderful to have the whole demonstration as it took place so professionally projected on screen. Clive related very warmly to the group, creating a relaxed friendly atmosphere. He was very aware that there were Slovenians in the group who spoke very little English, and never forgot to explain clearly to Milena, who interpreted for him, and to wait for her to translate. It all went so smoothly! Many thanks to all society members who supported the event.

During the week some of us painted with our guests in the People's Hall. Gill Impey sketched a picture of the art teacher from the school in Zreče, as he painted a wonderful acrylic picture of Sedbergh Main Street, which he has donated to us (This appears on the Back Cover of this month). Although his name was Nilian Lamovec, everyone addressed him as Didi! We have included for you a photo of Gill, her sketch and Didi.

SO WHAT NEXT?

On November 11th, 1.30pm. - 3.30pm. in the People's Hall Committee Room, Ruth Clayton, who is a professional artist as well as being secretary of the Art Society, will be giving a watercolour demonstration. This will focus on trees in the landscape. We have all painted trees, with varying degrees of success, and it will be fascinating to see Ruth's interpretation of the subject.

Then on November 19th, from 10.am. until 4pm. in the Methodist Hall, Ruth has kindly offered to give her time to advising us during our autonomous workshop based on her demonstration, 'Trees in the Landscape'.

Please note these dates in your diary. It makes all the effort in

UNsung HEROES

Have you heard about the man who spent his spare time creating wooden cheeky dogs? You know, the ones that suddenly appeared a year or two ago near the seat in Station Road. How many people went by with a smile on their faces as they wondered how they had got there!

Then there is someone who in their spare time walks the roads of Sedbergh with a litter bag. Quite unasked and unrewarded this person collects up the litter that thoughtless motorists - or their children - have cast out of their car windows.

How about a village noticeboard which another unsung hero noticed was falling apart so he (it had to be a he I think) went home and found a bit of wood and transformed it into a new notice board? And he did not even live in the village.

Could we have a regular Lookaround paragraph on 'Unsung Heroes'? It might be a small way of saying thank you.

Maureen Lamb

Eds Comment: This is a great idea, as long as it doesn't go too far. I feel that we have many 'Unsung Heroes' here with the Chair, Secretary, Treasurer and Members of various Organisations in the area (see Page 96 and the many reports that appear every month) who put a lot of their time and effort - for free- to keep our community going.

Not wishing to single out any in particular, we need seriously to look at one or two. Top of this month's List? Sedbergh Gala Committee. Would you like to be an 'Unsung Hero?'

SEPTEMBER WEATHER

Although we registered a total of 5.71 inches (145.03mm) of rain we actually had 8 dry days and more when most of the day was pleasant. It was just that when it did rain we had heavy downpours. It was also fairly mild with some very pleasant temperatures, a maximum of 77.9F (25.5C) on a day with only a shower. The coldest day was the last one when a minimum of 41.7F (5.38C) was recorded. On only 2 days was a maximum gust below double figures recorded with a maximum of 19.9 mph. On all but 4 days these gusts were recorded from the North West.

At last a few butterflies!! Although the buddleia was almost over on a warm day, the 29th, we had some red admirals and a solitary painted lady. Did you watch the fascinating programme on the Painted Lady and its migration all the way from Morocco this last week? An incredible journey for such a small animal! We've had a good crop of acorns on the trees I planted when we arrived here 21 years ago. It has also been a bumper year for fruit on other trees. The hawthorns and rowans are red with berries and our yellow berried version, Sorbus Joseph Rock, is likewise laden. I have never collected so many hazel nuts either. It used to be said that a heavy crop of berries was a sign of a hard winter to come but perhaps it was more likely we had a decent spring. Although we again had a good crop of Josta berries the blackbirds beat us to them again. I was quite hopeful that they had left us some but it wasn't to be! This is an interesting fruit, a 3 way cross between blackcurrants, European gooseberry and a black North American gooseberry. Worth trying if you can beat the birds!! We even managed a few Cox's Orange Pippins this year. Everything is still green, except for a sycamore in a next door field, and grass continues to grow. The sycamore has probably drowned! I lost a Serbian spruce last year which was under water for a great length of time. When I enquired of Kew if that were possible they said it was but the excessive wet probably caused Honey Fungus which is often associated with such conditions. The birds are eating us out of house and home, especially the sparrows. No bats seen again. They have obviously been disturbed & moved on this year.

was noted that the One Way sign at the bottom of Joss Lane on Main Street had now been replaced.

AMENITIES

Repair works were ongoing at the Park at the People's Hall following the recent damage which included a fire at the shelter and breakage of a supporting rail at the chain walk. Fly tipping had been noted at the laybys at both Settlebeck Bridge and Straight Bridge and South Lakeland District Council had been made aware.

OTHER MATTERS:

Cllr Kevin Lancaster was elected as Vice Chair of the Council and Cllr John Capstick appointed to the Policy & Resources Committee (following the resignation of Mary Macpherson last month). The co-option process for a replacement Parish Councillor is advertised in the Lookaround this month.

The requests for free parking on December Saturdays and on Artisan Market days were not supported by members for a number of reasons, including the favourable parking terms already operating on both car parks in town and the substantial anticipated resurfacing costs at Joss Lane car park in the future. It was noted that a petition had now been instigated in connection with the park at Maryfell. Notice had been given by BT of proposals to remove a number of telephone kiosks in the area, including that at Millthrop. Members noted, with regret, the announcement

FANCY A COFFEE?

Three things have occurred recently in the quiet and sometimes not so quiet foothills of beautiful and majestic Garsdale.

Firstly, following yet more protestations by the parish council and from local parishioners about the disruptive and dangerous behaviour at weekends by speeding, irresponsible motor bikers, there has been a more noticeable presence of the boys in blue. Marked cars have been stationed in the 30mph zones on a Sunday and the noise levels were clearly reduced. More's the pity though, that other bikers were positioning themselves on nearby bridges, warning fellow bikers that officers of the law were waiting for them so it's doubtful that many were apprehended. Hopefully, however, it may have given them something to think about: that they can't ride roughshod over the feelings of the locals without some consequences.

Secondly, a copy of a letter received by Tim Farron from Highways, has been seen, stating that the A684 had been surveyed and a set of rolling repairs will be effected shortly, using temporary traffic lights. What 'shortly' means to Highways is anybody's guess but let's await to see developments.

Thirdly, the telephones in the red BT boxes on The Street and on the road up to the station are to be removed unless viable reasons for their retention can be demonstrated. Unfortunately, their criteria for keeping the phones live are reasonable and it would be very difficult to justify their continued existence. However, it may be possible to 'adopt' the boxes themselves, without phones, and use them for local purposes. Therefore Garsdale PC is launching a massive fund raising campaign to enable to purchase these boxes and urge all local residents to dig deep and donate generously. A thermometer type chart will be erected outside the Village Hall showing the progress of the fundraising which will continue until 21st December and various appeals will be aired on local radio and television. A local dignitary is being sought to head the campaign. The target for each box is £1. (I have sponsored the Street Box with 20 pence to get it up and running. Ed)

After their purchase, suggestions will

SEDBERGH YOUTH CLUB

It's up and running! By the time you read this the Youth Club will have met on six occasions. There are usually between ten and sixteen young people who arrive at the Cornerstone Community Church Rooms – the URC Rooms - and spend time together on Thursday evenings between 6.30 and 8.00 pm. A range of activities are on offer, changing each week. Nela, Sharon and Adam are leading the sessions, but we could do with your help.

Eventually we will set up a rota for parents to help. This allows parents to see what goes on at our Youth Club and to meet the session leaders, although – let's face it – the young people themselves do find that having mum or dad around 'cramps their style' a little.

We could also do with a few more members of the community who might be prepared to give up a couple of hours on a regular basis to support and encourage our young members. You do need to be prepared to undergo DBS / CRB / 'police' checks, since we are conscious of our need to safeguard our young people, but there is also training available for those willing to help. Why not call in to talk with the leaders, or give Helen a call on 21562, e-mail ehwilberforce@btinternet.com

Finally – we have room for more young people. Just call in to the Cornerstone Community Rooms on any term-time Thursday evening from 6.30 to 8.00 pm. Helen Wilberforce

NATIONAL PARK NOTES

Many organisations and individuals are facing major challenges as a result of the decision to leave the EU. This also inevitably includes the Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority. As I mentioned in my previous article one of the principal causes for concern is the question of the extent to which the British government will confirm the existing wild life directives and habitat regulations or repeal these in due course to replace them with a more home grown version (either better or worse). The other main area of concern (probably the most significant challenge for the Authority at this time) is the whole issue of agri-environmental subsidies and the effect that leaving the EU will have on these subsidies not only for the farmer but also for the residents of the Park as a whole and the countryside generally.

The situation at the moment is that farmers receive Direct Payments from the Rural Payments Agency (often unfortunately many months after they fall due) and also payments directly related to the carrying out by farmers of environmental improvements on their land. Until recently these latter payments were made under the various Environmental Stewardship Schemes which were divided into entry level and higher level schemes. Many of these schemes will remain in existence for some years to come. However before Brexit the government introduced a new scheme called the Countryside Stewardship Scheme which came with a new set of rules, conditions and levels of entry. Apart from the additional work for farmers in coming to grips with the new scheme and the extensive documentation that goes with it there is also a general feeling amongst upland farmers that this latest scheme is designed more for the kind of farming which takes place in lowland and arable farming areas and is not as advantageous to farmers in this part of the world as the previous scheme. The number of farmers and land managers signing up for this new scheme has therefore reduced considerably. This in itself is a cause for concern. It remains to be seen whether environmental improvements will continue to be made by farmers if they are no longer part of a stewardship scheme and where such payments are only made on condition that the environmental work is carried out. An even bigger question, of course, is whether the government will wish to continue with any agri-environmental schemes at all once the UK is no longer part of the EU Common Agricultural Policy. There are many questions to answer and so far the government has been completely silent on the matter which does not help anyone to plan for the future. Opinion is divided between those who would like future schemes to continue in a way similar to the ones that we already have and those that would prefer the whole subsidy scheme as we have known it for many years to be abolished altogether!

One way forward is what is being referred to as a results based agri-environmental policy. The National Park is currently leading on a two year Defra pilot project in Wensleydale to which 19 farmers have already signed up. Instead of a one-size fits all scheme this will allow farmers and land owners to develop their own environmental projects tailored to the land which they own and with particular reference to the nature of the wild life to be found on it. A scheme will then be developed in consultation with the farmers and the Park's farming advisory officers and payments will be made on the basis of the results actually achieved over the initial two year period. It is therefore much less a tick box exercise and instead an acknowledgement of what is actually happening on the ground and the direct effect that it is having on the environment. Such “results based schemes” are already becoming widespread in Europe and in Ireland and are proving very popular with farmers as they feel that they thereby have much more control over their own destiny and the impact on their land. If the results of the pilot project prove successful in Wensleydale then there is every prospect of a similar scheme being rolled out across the whole of the country. As always however the final decisions will be Defra’s which effectively means that anything could happen! In the meantime I am currently chairing a series of meetings at the National Park bringing together the farming members of the Authority with officers of the Land Management team to help plan and co-ordinate the way forward. This team recently gave a presentation to other members of the Authority and it was received with a great deal of interest.

projects submitted by individuals, businesses, community groups or voluntary-sector bodies that contribute in some way to looking after the National Park's natural beauty, wildlife or cultural heritage.

Alternatively, they should promote opportunities for the public to understand and enjoy those things. At the same time, all projects should provide some local economic or community benefit.

Since April 1 the SDF has made grant offers to 13 worthy projects including:

- More than £31,000 for three B4RN community broadband schemes covering Dentdale & Garsdale, Chapel le Dale and

Casterton

- £552.75 towards the staging of two music concerts to celebrate the 40th Anniversary of Dentdale Choir. Archive material will also be created and made available via Dent Heritage Centre.
- £16,000 to the Killington and District Sustainable Energy Trust towards the cost of installing a fish pass and interpretation board at Broad Raine for the Killington hydro project.

Through the Roger Stott Community Grants programme, grants of between £250 and £1500 are available to support small voluntary organisations and community groups in and around the Yorkshire Dales wishing to continue or expand their activities to benefit local people.

Thanks to support from players of People's Postcode Lottery, this funding can be used to cover revenue expenses, such as staff costs, rent or training, or for capital investment in assets such as furniture, computers or catering equipment, to name just a few.

There are also three kinds of grants available for projects in the Ingleborough area: Heritage Grants of £200 - £5,000 are for community-led projects that restore, celebrate or increase understanding of the area's natural or historical features; Dry Stone Walling Grants of up to £10,000 are available for landowners and tenants who want to restore dry stone walls; and Woodland Grants of all sizes are available for landowners who want to restore native broadleaf woodlands.

YORKSHIRE DALES NATIONAL PARK

Work starts on flood-hit bridge

Work has started to replace a bridge in the Yorkshire Dales National Park that was demolished during flooding in early December last year.

The bridge at Birks Mill outside Sedbergh – which had a span of 108 feet – bore the full force of Storm Desmond and its disappearance has disrupted some local walking routes.

The new version is being supplied by Cumbria County Council and will be assembled by Yorkshire Dales National Park Authority Rangers.

The work is likely to last two to three weeks, depending on the weather, and it should be open for business by the end of November, according to Authority

Area Ranger Paul Wilkinson.

“The bridge was important for a number of circular walks around the town, and the Dales Way passes the western end of it,” he said.

“Its disappearance means that people wanting to cross the River Rawthey between Birks and Catholes are forced to take a detour via Millthrop.

“The Authority has been working with a number of partners to plan the replacement and the work started at the weekend.”

Financial support has come from the county council, the National Park Authority, Sedbergh Parish Council, Friends of the Lake District, HF Holidays (Pathways Fund), the Ramblers Association and the Dales Way Association.

Nick Cotton, the National Park Authority’s Member Champion for Recreation Management, said: “The National Park has more than 2,600 kms of public rights of way, including almost 900 bridges, which means there is a lot of maintenance work involved to keep the network in tip top condition for all the walkers, cyclists and horse riders who use it.

“We are always grateful for any help we can get – in terms of finance, materials or volunteer workers – from individuals, businesses or other partnership organisation to do the work. Without them it would be virtually impossible.”

Nick Oldham

COUNCILLOR CORNER

As we approach the first anniversary of Storm Desmond in early December, more and more attention is being focused on how prepared we are for heavy rains this winter. One of the most obvious signs of this is how well the drains are working. Cumbria County Council, as the Highways authority, are very aware of the need to deal with the issue of surface water and there are a few schemes in place to address problems in and around Sedbergh.

The first of these is greater co-ordination with South Lakeland District Council who are responsible for street sweeping, especially the autumn leaf fall. There will be close liaison between both authorities to ensure that cleaning and rodding the drains (Cumbria Highways) dovetails with collection of leaves and debris (South Lakeland Streetclean). Negotiations are in hand with the Environment Agency to allow a degree of flexibility about the temporary storage of leaves collected by the leaf sweeper so they can be bulked up and taken away by a larger vehicle at a later stage, leaving the leaf sweeper to do its specific job for the maximum amount of time and not waste time transporting the leaves to a distant dumping area.

Clearly there will be times in the heaviest period of leaf fall, during a storm in November for example, when the roads could be swept clean in the morning and be full of leaves again by the end of the day, so success must be judged over a longer period than a single day. It is this element of managing surface water where we as residents can do most to help - a boot scraped across a grating covered with leaves is often all that is needed in autumn to allow water to drain away or better still pick up the leaves with gloves and throw them into the verge, so they do not just get washed back on top of the grating or down the road to block the next gully.

Finally, each parish is being given a map marked-up with gullies that Cumbria Highways has on its system, asking for any that are missing or the location of soakaways by the roadside that may only be known to local residents. I sometimes wonder if a metal detector might also reveal a few hidden gratings, covered over by verges growing out into the road. Although you get quite an eye for where you think a gully should be in lane verges, at times if they have been covered for a long while they take a lot of finding. If you would like to help with this work please contact a Parish Councillor or the Parish Clerk.

COUNCILLORS CORNER

The Boundary Commission has been busy this month as far as our area is concerned. Firstly there were the proposed parliamentary boundaries for the 600 member House of Commons. There has been a strong but hardly reported learning of lessons on this one with minor changes to the rules upon which they have operated. The result has been a report which has been infinitely less controversial than the last one. The change to five constituencies should work well for Cumbria. The new Westmorland and Lonsdale will be all the Cumbria part of Lonsdale, all of Westmorland and us, the three West Riding parishes. This is much more satisfactory than the West Coast and Windermere seat suggested last time.

Then, a couple of days ago they released their final version of the new wards for South Lakeland. There are to be fifteen three member wards and three two member ones. Sedbergh and Kirkby Lonsdale will remain unaltered. The change from the draft concerns fitting the wards around the major lakes, Windermere and Coniston. I think again the Commission is to be commended for making the best of an awful choice. Because the controlling group forced through the retention of election by thirds everything else followed. We have now had eight years of the three member Sedbergh and Kirkby Lonsdale ward and experience has shown it to be an unhappy marriage. Sadly we will be stuck with it for several more years or at least until there is a change of control on the district. Three member wards are large wards and large wards dilute the local knowledge which should be at the very heart of local government.

This lack of localness has long been a concern to me and lies at the heart of my unease about a Unitary Cumbria. How can a decision be taken fairly by the elected members on a particular local issue if there is no-one in the room who has an intimate knowledge of the location and the sensibilities involved. creates a vacuum of decision making which officers are often more than willing to exploit. We have seen it in Highways for many years and it has long been a danger in county planning matters.

These minutiae of local politics might seem tedious, irrelevant or even offensive to those who are not personally involved. But, Politics are a good thing and they do matter. We are now approaching that most solemn part of the year when we remember those who died because of what happens when politics goes wrong. HSBC as we all know, close their branches and tell us to use Post Offices instead to pay in our cheques and cash. So it is great to see these places being invested in and being made more welcoming to customers. I am not sure how welcoming customers found it on the day I re-opened it, seeing me with a ridiculously large (and not very sharp) pair of scissors trying to cut through a big red ribbon but once I left I am sure people flooded in.

provide the money for any further payments, meaning the Government has to find the money from our taxes. So even if you don't have any farmers in your family this failure by the Government is affecting you. We are particularly badly hit in this part of the world as early on the Agency took the decision to delay payments made to farmers with animals on "common land" (the fells that we see around us) as these were felt to be more complicated to sort out. This situation really is not acceptable and I have yet again asked Andrea Leadsom, the Minister in charge of farming issues, to sort it out. Let's hope she gets on with it this time.

Finally, can I urge you to make your

The saga of the failure of the Rural Payments Agency sadly carries on. By the time you read this the deadline for completing payments to farmers for 2015 will have passed and I am fairly certain that quite a few will still not have been paid. This is over 9 months later than they should have been paid, which is bad enough, but also the EU, who fund these payments, say that when this deadline is passed they will not views known over the plans to make the temporary staffing arrangements at the Helme Chase maternity ward at Kendal Hospital permanent. As I am sure you know the Trust who run the hospital removed 24 hour cover "temporarily" nearly two years ago to overcover some staff issues. With the result that if you go into labour over night or at the weekend and want to have your baby in the hospital you have to contact the on-call midwife. I have heard of several occasions where a woman in labour has got to the hospital and been told to wait for the midwife to turn up. Unsurprisingly we have seen a decline in the number of women giving birth at the hospital over this period and I am really worried that if the changes become permanent it is simply one more step towards closing the ward completely and sending everyone to Lancaster. You can make your views on this plan known by emailing Communications.Team@CumbriaCCG.nhs.uk, they want to know what people think.

If I can help you with these or any other issues please do get in touch by emailing tim@timfarron.co.uk or phoning 01539 723 403.

State Controlled Media'. The clear implication is that their media lied whilst ours ('free') always told the truth. The effectiveness of this propaganda is clear in that there are still many who believe it!

Now it appears, to me at least, that this little coded warning as to the untruthfulness of what you were about to read or see could, with a little alteration, be applied to the media in dear old Britain.

Let me explain: It is obvious to any observer/consumer of the British media that it is controlled by individuals and institutions neither domiciled in nor affiliated to this country. We see Russian oligarchs, Australian Americans and Lord Rothermere defining the political agenda while secretive twins wield considerable influence from their tiny (tax free) fiefdom of Sark.

It can be no surprise therefore to know that Margaret Thatcher had an understanding with the same egregious Australian American which led to his being able to buy up large sections of the British Press, nor that Tony Blair admitted to reading the 'Sun' editorial first every morning or even David Cameron's cosy Cotswold dinner parties in the company of News Corporation executives. Who was at Theresa May's first social junket on becoming Prime Minister? No surprise; our old friend Rupert!

Ok, so the print media reflects the world view of a few international oligarchs: So What? We can always rely on the BBC.

Not too long ago a Chairman of the Corporation was asked why there were so few, (any), people beyond the cleaners who came from 'ordinary' backgrounds?

The Chairman, (Charterhouse and Keeble), smiling his best egalitarian smile replied that he was, in fact, increasing the number of internships in order, he added fatuously, to ensure that the Corporation employed the best possible people from the widest possible background. He did not add, however, that these internships, whilst open to anybody, require that the internees live in London and receive no more than travelling expenses for the privilege.

We, as a nation, are as mushrooms; fed on sludge and kept in the dark! But light is beginning to break through the miasma of Celebrity gossip, Premier League football, sex and carefully manipulated news stories in which we live! Is our liberation at hand? More next month.

THENEWSNOT

Important: Affordable short films for business.

If a picture paints a thousand words a video will increase profits.

If you have a website you can benefit from a home page video.

FACT: people have less time and desire to read through your web site blah blah blah.

A well made short film can answer questions text and blurb cannot.

I've worked with international clients both big business and small and the overall consensus is that a beautiful video attracts customers. I've been in the film business for 25 years making everything from documentaries to music videos and have now settled in Milltrop the family home of my partner to be the best dad I can be to our lovely son "Archie". Armed with a laptop, camera, microphone and a sense of adventure I've travelled from the depths of the oceans to the desserts of Africa, making films and been involved with some amazing projects, now for the most amazing adventure of all.

When not being a dad I've just started my own video and film company here in South Lakes. I know that many people think making a promotional video is an expensive business but now with affordable equipment and the knowledge to use it, it's possible to make affordable short film within the budgets of most businesses. I can produce music, graphics, titling and help you with getting social media coverage. Everything you need to show your potential customers what a worthwhile business you have.

So if you run your own business and you wish to attract more customers then please visit my web site www.thenewsnot.com or give me a call Stuart 07704 705175. Talking is for free so why not call and be surprised.

SEDBERGH COMMUNITY FIRST RESPONDERS

Defibrillator at Number 72

In the UK, approximately 20 per cent of cardiac arrests occur in a public place and the proportion of those that may recover is increased if they receive resuscitation from bystanders. Lives can be saved by immediate treatment and by the use of a defibrillator which delivers a high-energy electrical shock.

There is a new defibrillator in position outside number 72 Main Street in Sedbergh. An application was submitted on behalf of the Community First Responders for a Roger Stott Community Grant and was awarded £1.500 towards the cost. It is housed in a secure, temperature-controlled cabinet fixed to the wall. Both residents and visitors will be able to access this in an emergency and it is designed to be used easily by anyone even if they have no training, although some people have already shown a keen interest in knowing how to use this one and the one already at the Peoples Hall. A couple of Community First Responders are trained in teaching basic life support and will be showing these interested people how to help in a cardiac arrest situation and if you would like to be included please contact us by using the details on the leaflets readily seen in Sedbergh. We are very fortunate to have these potentially life-saving devices in the town.

SEDBERGH ORCHESTRA

Musical Firsts and Lasts

Rehearsals for Sedbergh Orchestra's next concert are in full swing, under the baton of Roland Fudge who was conductor and compere for the very enjoyable Summer Café Concert in the People's Hall in 2015. Peter Crompton, the orchestra's regular conductor, is away examining in Hong Kong for several weeks so we are grateful to Roland for stepping in for this concert. It will take place at 8.00pm on Thursday November 24th at St Andrew's Church.

Bob Wells, the writer of the programme notes, has already done his researches which have unexpectedly thrown up the idea of 'Musical Firsts and Lasts' as a title. All will be revealed at the time!

The programme follows the traditional order of overture, concerto and symphony, composed by Weber, Vivaldi and Haydn respectively, with an added item by Hummel before the interval, the explanation for which comes later.

Weber belongs to the so-called Romantic period. His overture to the opera 'Der Freischutz' has become popular as a concert overture.

Sedbergh Orchestra on more than one occasion when there was a shortage of flute players. This time she has been invited to be the concerto soloist. Her chosen work is 'La Nocturne' by Vivaldi. It is thought that Vivaldi wrote it before 'The Four Seasons', his best-known work, made so famous by Nigel Kennedy's various versions. In this concerto, the soloist is accompanied only by strings and harpsichord and Roger Bush will put aside his double bass to play his keyboard - to the right effect it is hoped!

To compensate the wind players who are excluded from this piece, they will perform Johann Nepomuk Hummel's Partita in E flat which excludes strings. This piece was played at the Pepperpot AGM in July and is definitely well worth hearing! But it does not include flutes, so the orchestra's three flute players will be providing welcoming trios as the doors open at 7.45. The doors remain closed until this time because the last and necessary rehearsal has to take place then. But the trumpets are still left out . . . They might therefore do some busking outside before the doors open - if the weather permits.

The final item is Haydn's 'London' symphony - something of a misnomer since he wrote twelve symphonies in London. This is no.104 so he knew his trade pretty well by then!

Tickets are available at £7 in beginning to look tired and back-end-ish. It, and the white-veined leaves of Arum italicum 'Marmoratum' begin their growing season and add a lovely freshness to the garden.

Every year I am struck by the vibrancy of the autumn colour displayed in some trees and shrubs, and this year is proving to be no exception. In my garden, Stewartia pseudocamellia always produces an autumn riot of glowing red and orange. This useful small tree bears single white Camellia-like flowers in June and July, and also has interesting cinnamon brown, flaking bark. It likes to grow in light shade in a moisture retentive, acid soil.

Hydrangeas are not usually cultivated for their autumn tints, but Hydrangea quercifolia – the Oak leaved Hydrangea, a white flowered species, usually turns red before leaf fall. Two other acid soil loving shrubs, Hamamelis mollis 'Pallida' and Fothergilla monticola turn yellow and orange. The former is the attractive, winter blooming Witch Hazel with fragrant flowers whose yellow petals were once described to me by a 7 year old girl as "being just like grated cheese on sticks", (though the perfume is much more attractive). It makes a broad, spreading shrub perhaps 2m wide and 1.5m high in 10 – 15 years. Fothergilla monticola is smaller and has spikes of creamy white flower with long stamens, born

B4RN

Remember, remember, the 23rd of November! That's when the Dentdale and Garsdale community team working with B4RN is planning to hold a public meeting in the Memorial Hall, Dent, to demonstrate how hyperfast fibre broadband works and what it can do for you. Look out for confirmation and details nearer the time. We'll be telling you what's been achieved so far, and what's going to happen next. Don't miss it.

So where are we up to now in the big community effort to bring state of the art hyperfast broadband to every home and business that wants it in Dentdale and Garsdale? Well, we've dug our way over Barbondale – along the verges, through the fields, under streams, through the culverts – and laid the ducting that will carry the fibre. The first length of fibre was 'blown' through from Gawthrop to Dent primary school in mid-October, and by the time you read this our techie teams will be completing the fibre connection from Barbon and connecting homes in Gawthrop hamlet to the newly-installed 'cabinet' in Dent. To start with, a switch for 92 connections will have been installed by the end of October, with another 500 to follow.

The next step is to start building the network that will bring connections to homes in Cowgill, Deepdale, and then Garsdale – the places where old-style copper wiring struggles to produce broadband speeds of 2Mbps, compared with fibres' top speed of 1000Mbps! Once again, we thank the farmers and land-owners who have given us free wayleave agreements to allow us to proceed. They know that modern hyperfast broadband is vital to a successful farming future, and they are not going to be left behind.

Over the next few weeks our volunteers will be leafleting those home-owners in Dentdale whose current speeds from BT are 2Mbps or lower – and that's most houses more than a mile from Dent village. For every property in this position B4RN will be able access additional Government funding which will help cover the costs of building our superfast network, as reported in last month's Lookaround.

So get that 23rd of November date in your diary! See you there at 7:30pm! And if you haven't yet got round to joining our team of volunteers, call us on 015396 25321 and we'll be glad to sign you up.

Parking is available at the Brewery or nearby Dowker Lane. Level access will be available in due course. There is a portable desk loop on the reception desk. The building also houses the Low Vision Clinic, declared to be "very helpful" by several members, which gives practical advice and takes place on the 3rd Tuesday of the month. It is hoped that the new centre will have a much higher profile than Stricklandgate House.

Margaret brought some large playing cards for us to look at, among other items designed to aid the visually impaired. One of the items which attracted most attention was a device called the "Audio Bible". No larger than a mobile phone, it contains the whole of the Bible, narrated by David Suchet of "Poirot" fame. The cost was a surprisingly reasonable £40. Something to think about with Christmas coming up

SEDBERGH TRANSPORT

Re "Transport Problems" in the September Lookaround.

I believe that the Western Dales Bus (WDB) provides us with a much better service on a Saturday than we have with the commercial services during the week, with four return trips to Kendal and Dent, and two connections with the trains at Dent Station. There are also services to Hawes and Kirkby Stephen during the week.

I understand that the seating capacity is as it is because this enables the drivers to drive the bus using their normal car driving licences, complemented by specialist training courses and the attainment of a certificate of competence. Any increase in capacity would mean they would have to have a PS V licence. As the drivers (and everyone else working for the WDB) are all volunteers, this would mean extra training and expense, when they are already giving up their valuable free time for the sake of the community.

Additionally, the very narrow and bendy roads between Dent and Dent station would be much more difficult for a larger vehicle to negotiate.

I feel the WDB does provide a good

The poster is framed by a decorative border of green Christmas trees. At the top, the text "Seaberg Christmas Late Night Opening" is written in a red, cursive font, arching over a central illustration of a holly branch with red and blue baubles. Below this, the date "Wednesday 7th December 2016" is written in green. The main text is in black, with red asterisks separating the bullet points. At the bottom, it says "We look forward to seeing you there!" and "Organised by Seaberg & District Chamber of Trade and Business".

Seaberg Christmas Late Night Opening

Wednesday 7th December 2016

Come and join us for an evening of festive family fun.

Beginning at 6 p.m. with the ringing of the Church Bells and the arrival of Father Christmas on his fire engine.

Opening ceremony and Christmas Light switch-on with the Town Crier, Gala Queen and, of course, Father Christmas.

Bring the children to meet Father Christmas in his grotto.

The shops will be open for all your present buying, and cafes and restaurants will be open.

service for the communities of Sedbergh and Dent, as well as visitors to our area. Without the commitment of all the volunteers, we would have no service at all on Saturdays to Kendal, nor the opportunity to visit Hawes or Kirkby Stephen by bus. To therefore say that the bus is unsuitable and to imply that the WDB does not provide a service is not only hurtful, but misguided as well.

KILLINGTON SAILING ASSOCIATION NEWS

As the end of the sailing season approaches Killington has had several notable results

At the famous Southport International 24 hour endurance race in its 50th Anniversary year Killington had two teams complete the event. The main Killington team maintained their recent record in a big field of 82 dinghies by coming 21st overall and in the Enterprise class. Meanwhile a second team from Sedbergh School who train at Killington, came 7th in the Lark class. It was a year of very light winds and during the night the boats were "ghosting" around in near becalmed conditions.

At the end of the Laser Lakeland and Far Northern Laser series, which started almost 6 months ago with the first event at Killington, three sailors managed to complete the whole series and won the 4.7 and the Radial class and were also 2nd youth in the overall series. The Thomas brothers, James and George, from Killington village claimed the Radial and 2nd Youth prize, while the 4.7 prize was won by a Swiss national from Sedbergh School sailing club. Events have travelled from Killington via the Lake district and Scottish borders to Northumberland for the final event at Derwent reservoir.

Possibly more exciting than any of the above for local sailors, is the installation of our new floating jetty at Killington which provides a much improved launching facility and creates a small harbour for launching into in windy conditions. It was interesting this week to see a group able to carry out capsizing training using the new harbour in a Force 5 – unthinkable prior to this facility. We are grateful to many local charities for helping fund this installation; Cumbria Community Foundation, Sedbergh and District CIO and the Hadfield Trust.

Through discussion and with a cuppa in hand it's amazing where the conversation can go!

In the evening, our school was packed out with parents and children who came to look round and meet our staff and students. Maisie Gough (24th), Cj Middleton (29th) and Amelie Pennington (51st) all performed fantastically too. Henry continued his success, finishing 6th in the invitational cross country event at Casterton School, racing against others a year above him. Now also on Wednesdays!

We will be doing a Bags for Schools collection for our PTFA after half term. If you have any unwanted clothes or shoes in good condition, please bring them down to Settlebeck School in the week beginning 21st November.

A big thank you to our community policer officers who have been coming into school to talk to students about internet safety.

Finally, it's our annual Christmas Fair on Friday 25th November from 5pm. There will be stalls selling beautiful, affordable Christmas gifts, cakes and the ever popular tombola as well as Santa, of course! For the second year, our GCSE Catering students will be serving up delicious hot food in their pop-up diner – homemade meat & potato pie, curry and lasagne. It was so popular, we sold out last year so get here early, give yourself a night off and let Settlebeck feed the family!

MISS CUMBRIA FINALIST

My name is Rebecca Thompson, I attended Settlebeck school, earning gcse grades of mainly A* and As and went on to QES where I completed A levels of 2 As and a C. This year I am a finalist for Miss Cumbria!!

Miss Cumbria is an amazing competition for girls aged 17-26. We are encouraged to be the best versions of ourselves and that it's not about how "pretty" we are but its inner beauty that counts!

On Sunday 2nd October I attended an activity day where I met other girls taking part in the competition, making friends for life, learnt more about the final and had a free mini photo shoot! The final will be held on Saturday 12th November at Carlisle, where there will be a catwalk and we will have to model 4 outfits. First sports wear, followed by your favourite Saturday night outfit, then evening/prom wear and finally an eco outfit! So the Eco outfit, this is an outfit that has been borrowed, bought from a charity shop or made from recycled items, the theme this year is countries of the world due to the Olympics in Rio this year. I have chosen the country of Spain and will be making a Spanish flamenco dress!

In order to take part in the final, all girls must raise a minimum of £200 pounds for the chosen charity. This year it is the children's charity Variety. My fundraising for the event includes a quiz night every Wednesday at the Red Lion, Sedbergh.

At the George and Dragon, Dent, I hosted a pool competition that took place every Sunday in October. Finally, I organised to fundraise at the Halloween party at the Red Lion, Sedbergh.

You can also help me raise money for charity by donating to my "Just Giving" page where the money will go to the Variety charity.

LADIES NFU

Our September Meeting took place on the 20th, our Speaker the Rev. Carole Marsden from Kirk by Stephen came to tell us all about her Lancashire Childhood. It was exactly 4 years since the Rev. Carole came to speak to us about her work in her Parish, and we all remembered her amusing anecdotes from then. We had a lovely evening of nostalgia as we are nearly all of a certain age.

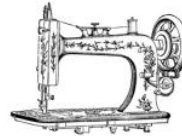

Carole was born in Ashton-Under-Lyne and lived in a 2 up and 2 down House similar to the ones in Coronation Street. Her mother was the daughter of a Pig Farmer 1 of 8, and her father also 1 of 8 was a member of a Travelling Orcus. Carole an only child, not very tall and rather chubby, and was born knock-kneed which in those days was rather a problem. All manner of things were tried but she still had to wear big brogue shoes with some kind of pad in one of them. A dancing class was suggested, father sprayed a pair of her brogues with silver paint and she clomped along clumsily while all the other girls wore black dance shoes, no help at all. A family member was the Fat Lady at the Circus and she was also the target for the Knife Thrower - Carole wondered how he could miss as she was so big. On Friday out came the Tin Bath and was filled with hot water and Lifeguard Suds — Carole was in first and chatted with the many visitors who called and always had a word with her, much later a very red and screwed up Carole got out and dried herself putting on her liberty bodice etc. etc. A TV was purchased in 1958 so Carole did not have to visit the boy next door whose family had got one earlier. What a lot of laughter we had, a most enjoyable talk from a great raconteur. A short tea-break followed. The lucky Raffle Winner was Marlene Mason. A letter was read from the Kendal Branch of the Heart Foundation thanking members for our generous cheque.

President Bridget Postlethwaite made everyone welcome at the September meeting including Marion our visitor.

Our fundraising challenge, a "Sheepish Quiz" is going well. Quiz sheets are on sale from members and outlets around Sedbergh.

This includes all aspects of foot care, ankles, knees and lower limbs and working with all ages. Her role helps older and disabled people to stay mobile and independent.

The competition for a pair of novelty socks was won by Audrey Hoggarth with Mary Stainton second. Liz Moore and Pauline Robson were joint winners of a quiz to name the illnesses from the anagrams. Marion our visitor was raffle winner.

The Annual General Meeting was held on October 6th. Bridget gave a warm welcome to members, visitor Margaret Brassett, and W.I. friend

The Secretary reported a busy and active year and felt undoubtedly we will continue to flourish. The President thanked the Committee and members for their support in whatever role they help the W.I. function. The Treasurer reported our finances are healthy and up from the previous year.

We proceeded to the vote for President and Committee for the coming year. Bridget was re-elected and is happy to continue as President for the coming year. The Committee remains the same with the addition of Anne Kendal who was nominated.

Following the business Margaret took us back to 2014 when she and husband Douglas spent three months away from home. They spent time touring Australia visiting seventeen different countries and experiencing iconic attractions and different cultures. Bridget thanked Margaret for a cheerful talk lifting our spirits.

The afternoon WI for the Entire District

From the sublime to the ridiculous!

That is not quite the summary of the month but it certainly reflects the happenings at Killington WI !

Our activities this month have varied from the serious to the happily enjoyable. We have moved from making floppy pumpkins to considering the sources of power for the years ahead. A number of us (two car loads) went to Endmoor Village Hall to hear Dame Sue Ion enlighten us on the sources and amounts of power which we shall need in the years ahead. Shall we switch to nuclear? Or shall we go for renewables – wind, hydro, tidal? Or maybe go for fossil fuels?-coal , gas, oil, fracked shale gas. Our very eminent speaker, who before she started to speak seemed like a quiet unassuming lady, soon convinced us that we would need every available source of power, and then some! If you look her up on Google you will see what a true expert she is. Initially she trained as an engineer and progressed to being a government advisor on nuclear and all other power sources. We felt privileged that such a person would spare the time to speak to a local organisation such as the Cumbria-Westmorland Federation of the W.I. (We know that she is really famous as she has been a guest on 'Desert Island Discs'). We felt that her talk added to our visit, earlier in the year, to Heysham Nuclear Power Station. Another Federation WI meeting this month is by an expert on Climate Change. So you can see that we are not just, "Jam and Jerusalem".

So that was the serious side of our month. Our own Killington WI meeting could certainly not be called ridiculous! But masses of fun it surely was. Our own member, Avril, a skilled and enthusiastic crafter, showed us how to make fabric pumpkins, ready for autumn displays in our homes or wherever we fancied. It was such fun! Amid much laughter and groans, pumpkins slowly took shape. I came home with one pumpkin ready to be stuffed, and another cut out waiting to be sewn. Our hostesses had really entered into the spirit of the meeting. Refreshments consisted of Pumpkin Soup, Pumpkin Muffins, and a luscious cake topped with Pumpkin Seeds. Brilliant! Thank you so much.

Our next meeting will be much more solemn as it is our AGM when votes will be counted and officers elected. (but even that is difficult to take seriously). We shall have a visitor from one of our Federation Officers so that should keep us on the strait

SEDBERGH WI

Anne-Marie Quinn from the Lakeland Arts Trust came to speak to us on 12th October about her work, which turned out to be much more varied than I, for one, had expected. When she was appointed to the Trust in 2012 as Learning and Engagement Officer, her brief was to encourage people who would not normally go to art galleries to visit the four properties managed by the Trust, namely, Abbot Hall and the Museum of Lakeland Life in Kendal; Blackwell, the Arts and Crafts house near Windermere (which several of us know and love!); and the Windermere Steamboat Museum, currently undergoing a transformation.

Many of us will recognise the worries parents might feel about taking young children into a gallery or stately home (though nowadays many of these are actively encouraging children) but Anne-Marie has organised groups of parents with young children to introduce them to these places and find things of interest there, bringing family members closer together through shared activities. She showed us some photos of these happy occasions. Similarly, she has arranged activities with youth groups and people with mental health issues. The main focus of her talk and slide show on this occasion, however, was her work with people living with dementia, to give them creative and cultural enrichment.

Inspired by Anne-Marie's visit to the Museum of Modern Art (MOMA) in New York and their outreach to people living with dementia, entitled 'Meet me at MOMA', which has an interactive museum gallery programme for people with dementia and their families and dementia caregivers, Lakeland Arts have set up the "Enriched by Moments" programme. Working with the Kendal Dementia Action Alliance (of which Anne-Marie is Secretary), groups of people with dementia are selected to meet at the Museum for a few hours a month on Tuesdays or Fridays and are encouraged to look at particular works of art and express their feelings about them. They also have practical sessions and occasional visits out. Anne-Marie records their comments and takes photos which can be shared by the group later, thus 'stretching out' the fleeting 'Moments' enjoyed by the group when they are together, enriching them further. Anne-Marie read out to us some of the perceptive comments they made. The advantage is that the group can interact in a situation that doesn't rely on memory, and they can express emotions openly. "Live well for longer!" is the aim. Anne-Marie described this interaction with a work of art as 'a brain-gym': people with dementia can still feel and express emotion so it's good for their language skills too. It's obvious from comments made by the participants that the classes can have a transformative effect. As one member of the Friday group said: "It's not just here on a Friday: it's how that changes every day!" Anne-Marie's talk gave us much food for thought. She also told us that poetry is a good basis for encouraging people with dementia to talk about their feelings, and some of our own members pointed out the benefits of group singing, experienced here in Sedbergh at the Gladstone House singing group. Sandra Gold-Wood thanked Anne-Marie on behalf of us all for a very interesting talk.

Meeting at Moira's house the next day, the remnants of the book club - only three of us since five were on holiday and one was babysitting! – switched their attention from Cumbria to Kolkata (Calcutta). "The Lowland" by Jumpha Lahiri begins in that city in the 1960s and 1970s. A very traditional Bengali Muslim family in which the parents had expected to arrange their sons' marriages is torn apart when one son becomes involved with Indian-Maoist revolutionaries, known as the Naxalite movement, which is still active today. The author, herself the daughter of Bengali parents who moved to the United States when she was a child, was inspired to write this book based on a news item she read from Bengal. The action of the novel

The Quiz Night to be held in Sedbergh on November 7th has received an enthusiastic response from the membership and we might well be fielding two teams as it is usually such a good evening.

Firm arrangements have now been made for the Christmas Party to be held in the George and Dragon on the evening of 14th December. It now remains for us to make our individual choices from the menus.

Our speaker for the evening was Heather Askew. We all sat back ready to be informed and entertained as Heather skilfully demonstrated the art of Seasonal Flower Arranging. She started with something autumnal calling her arrangement Bonfire Night. The basis of this arrangement used pieces from the Beech tree and Heather ran through the process of conditioning the leaves used in the display. she then added Honesty and the gorgeous orange Chinese lantern plant and other leaves which made for a lovely colour combination. It was almost magical to see the finished arrangement and it looked lovely.

Heather accompanied her talk with interesting stories, anecdotes and naturally, tips on arranging as she continued the evening making three beautiful Christmas table arrangements. She said we were very

Our October Meeting took place on the 18th when Margaret Watkins spoke about her passion for Hats. Both of her parents had died long before she was a teenager, she was then taken to live with a friend of her parents who had a Hat Shop in Lancaster called Mauds — hence the passion for Hats. When Mauds Hat Shop closed there were some Thirty Thousand Pounds worth of stock, Mrs Watkins managed to sell the bulk of it. The rest with the addition of a few purchased for Weddings are what were modelled by our President Marilyn, and then passed round to be tried on by whoever wished to. Plenty

FAMILY MUSINGS

Our family age range is 9 months to 98 years with a number of decades marked inbetween. Next year I will be 60 years of age and plan to celebrate in various ways. When I was 40 my dear old Dad told me that he hoped I would double my age, when I was 50 a friend (??) said she hoped I never doubled my age because me at 100 was way to scary to contemplate and it really cannot be said for 60! Auntie, at 98 would like a few more years yet but definitely not to be 100.. now I got kicked out the maths class for getting 8% in my maths mock O' level but even so that doesn't add up..!

November is fireworks and bonfires, toffee apples and stirring the puddings for christmas, nights by the fireside and watching for the early bird Christmas post. I have bought my cards but will they all be ready to send by the end of the month.. that's the aim. Enjoy the sparklers of life.

BIKING IN EUROPE

I turned into Pinfold Caravan Park to be met by some wet and bedraggled bunting which simply said 'Welcome Back Stuart', it hung from the site gate sadly limp and sodden, I knew just how it felt!

A hundred and three days earlier I had ridden my Kawasaki 800 through the same gate in the opposite direction heading for a road trip around Europe. I had previously toured France and Ireland with friends but only for two weeks at a time. I'd always liked the idea of touring alone so I could take my time, stop where and when I wanted and not be tied to an itinerary; probably watching films like 'Easy Rider' had something to do with it too! So the idea for my journey was born; travel into Europe and let the trip develop itself. In my head were five places that I wanted to visit, other than that the trip had no plan, a jigsaw puzzle where all the corner pieces were decidedly missing. It's said by the armed forces that 'a plan lasts for approximately five minutes after first contact with the enemy', as it transpired there was no truer statement. Arriving in France at the beginning of a fuel strike does tend to undo any semblance of a travel plan which relies on regular petrol stops.

Five days later I was finally able to fuel up and head south through Belgium and eastern France to the Mediterranean eventually turning west along the French Riviera into Spain. Crossing Spain from east to west via Portugal, then back along the northern Spanish coast until I found myself in France once more and travelling north on the Atlantic coast. Riding inland to central France, then north west to Brittany, south once more to Limoge, north east to Calais, then Belgium once again, Holland, south through Germany and into Luxembourg and north back to Calais, a ferry to Dover, a very wet and busy M25 to High Wycombe and finally home.

Without Satnav and relying on an old road atlas I was often lost and on one occasion nearly ran out of fuel in a huge deserted forest on the Spanish/Portugese border. When I stopped for a rest it was so quiet that 'Duelling Banjos' immediately sprang to mind! It also became incredibly hot as I rode south so heat exhaustion was a very real concern and pulling a trailer with a motorcycle on roads which were full of potholes can be entertaining to say the least. However despite all of this, the places I visited more than made up for any inconvenience or discomfort encountered while riding and the people I met along the way were incredible.

I've been asked what I will remember most about the trip and apart from beginning to talk to the bike, it is without question the people. Like the campsite owner in Le Pay who immediately gave me a cold beer when I arrived at his site soaked with sweat, or the couple who provided coffee and biscuits while I repaired my tent in Albert. The husband and wife in Avignon who came over to chat when they saw I was alone or a biker called Sam in Bussiere Poitvine talking with me till 2am in the morning and watching the sky for meteorites.

An artist called Kord who liked my sketchbook, in Bruges I met two brothers from New York and shared a drink with them and a young couple in Gray who were travelling round in a donkey drawn caravan and offered to share their meal with me. And 'Sausage Syd' a black and white cat who shared my tea with me when I was camping in Bressuire; he left as soon as the sausages ran out!!

Ted Simon in 'Jupiters Travels' ended up in the Far East and when you read about his adventures travelling the world it's the people he met who provided the memory factor so with hindsight its come as no real surprise that my little expedition has also given me so many excellent experiences to remember and think about. Mind you, taking 3,700 pictures, producing a sketchbook, a journal, ninety odd Facebook posts and painting the trailer with my various stopping points also goes some way to jogging my memory!!

So on that wet Saturday has I turned the corner and saw Sedbergh for the first time in three and a half months it felt somehow quite fitting to arrive in pouring rain and soaked to the skin. Stopping briefly at the top of the hill to take in the view, I remembered a couple of lines I had once read, "That you can travel the world looking for something and return home to find it". I patted the petrol tank and congratulated Blodwyn (the bike) for not missing a beat in 7200 miles, then letting the clutch out and pulling off for the final time we rode the last couple of miles through town, over the last bridge and home.

P.S. Thank you to Ruth for encouraging me to do the trip, flying out to visit me twice, supporting me throughout the whole thing and for hanging the bedraggled bunting for my welcome home.

DENT FOLK CAROLS

December 2-4

This is always a busy time of year for our singers - learning all the festive songs to sing over the season of goodwill, with this year several drinking songs of good cheer for making toasts, as well as an array of seasonal songs, folk carols and many of the Sheffield pub carols.

You are all very welcome to join us at our winter festival of folk carols and seasonal songs in Dent over the first weekend in December - we always get a large number of singers coming from around the country and we have a lot of fun learning these songs and singing them together in harmony in the Dent Meditation Centre and Memorial hall during the day on Saturday and on Sunday morning. We've also got our Carols from Afar workshop on Sunday morning where we sing carols from other countries, most notably from our twin town in Slovenia, and a singing walk taking our songs up the valley.

Tickets are now available for the Folk Carols Concert - "Toasts of Good Cheer" - in the Dent Memorial hall on Friday night, December 2. As well as local singers we have a visiting choir from Glasgow: Muldoon's Picnic who are coming to sing for us. We've also got the folk carols ceilidh on Saturday night with a caller and musicians leading us through the evening - as well as many songs to join in with or just listen to from the visiting singers. And Lucia will as always provide us with another of her festive feasts.

As well as learning the tunes and harmonies for these wonderfully lively folk carols at the Dent weekend, I can send out recordings of the parts, words and written music for you to practice at home - and you can then join us Settle Carlisle Carolling day on Saturday December 10 when we sing them on the train, in Langwathby, Appleby, Ribbleshead and Settle stations, and in a few pubs along the way including the very welcoming Station Inn at Ribbleshead, the Golden Lion in Settle and the Langwathby station cafe. There are lifts available from Sedbergh to join the morning warm up and preparation in Langwathby village hall before catching the lunchtime train south.

SEDBERGH COMMUNITY SWIFTS

Now that all our swifts are back in Africa, it is time to reflect and plan for their return next year. One most enjoyable activity is meeting with other enthusiasts to compare notes, what is happening in other areas, and to receive and offer advice.

Sedbergh Community Swifts plays an active part in the national swift scene. In 2015 we helped set up the Swift Local Network (SLN), a forum that helps and supports enthusiasts and swift groups around the country. We had the inaugural SLN meeting at Leighton Moss last year, and in November this year we'll be meeting again in Bristol.

We are listed as the local contact on the swift conservation website www.swift-conservation.org.uk and at Action for Swifts (AfS) www.actionforswifts.blogspot.co.uk.

Both these websites have masses of information about swifts, and AfS has lots of extremely practical information. Our St Andrew's church tower project is featured in the 'churches' section.

Last year Swift-Conservation, AfS and SLN had a stand for the first time at the annual Rutland Bird Fair. This is the most important event in the birding world that takes place over 3 days towards the end of August. It is a massive international event with not only bird and conservation organisations from all over the world but with well over a thousand other exhibitors, in 8 enormous marquees, ranging from optics, travel and art and with another three marquees for lectures.

We helped man the stand last year and it was so successful that we repeated it this year too. What made it very exciting was a visit from naturalist Chris Packham. The picture shows him with some of us at our stand: Edward Mayer of swift-conservation is 3rd from left and Dick Newell of AfS is 4th from right, next to Chris Packham. We are the two on the left wearing our special swift-adorned outfits, what else! It was also very gratifying that we were awarded 2nd place for the best stand, in the conservation category.

Not bad for an entirely voluntary organisation.

While our swifts are in Africa is the ideal time to make plans for their return at the beginning of May next year. We urge anyone who is planning building work before then to put up boxes, especially if you are using scaffolding. And mention this to friends and neighbours too. Even better, consider installing nest bricks into the wall as swifts seem to prefer these. The latter are especially appropriate if you are doing roof repairs, new builds or extensions. There are many examples of boxes and bricks installed around Sedbergh, which we would be happy to show you.

Most importantly, if you are one of the lucky people to have swifts nesting in your property but need to plan for some exterior work, please try and avoid the breeding season of May – August. It's vital not to disturb the nest entrance holes, and we can advise how this can be managed quite easily. We would be delighted to help in any way we can.

COMMUNITY ORCHARD GROUP

What a wonderful year to start an orchard! From all reports it has been a bountiful year, with trees positively groaning under the weight of their fruit. The community orchard is pleased to announce that two Scotch Bridget apples were picked from a tree that was only planted in March. Is this a sign of great things to come?

The Group has enjoyed a full programme of events over the last month. Firstly we were delighted to welcome Year 5 from Sedbergh Primary School for an afternoon at the Orchard. During their time with us they were shown various bugs, beetles and bees and the importance they play in pollination and plant life cycle. This was demonstrated by Steve Smith who led a discussion with Year 5 pupils about the insects that would be helpful in an orchard. Bees would assist with pollination, and lacewings and ladybirds would eat greenfly. With luck, these helpful insects will come to live in the Bug Hotel.

The children were also taken around the orchard where the different types of trees were shown and explanations given about taste, what they could be used for and whether they will be good producers. From cookers to dessert to juice to cider. Some like George Cave are best eaten from the tree, while ones like Scotch Bridget will keep until March

Then it was time to get their hands on all the bits and pieces to make

Three children won prizes for the most inventive Bug Hotel designs, these designs were combined and followed as closely as possible. So feathers, pine cones, sheep wool, bamboo, string, acorns and many other things were stuffed, tied or stuck to make a cosy home for the bugs in the Orchard. Well done Year 5, you did a great job!

If you get a chance, wander down to the Orchard and look at the bug hotel, you'll find it tucked away underneath the big trees in the corner, and feel free to add a room of your own, this is all part of the Orchard being for the whole community to enjoy.

We have been working hard to make sure that it is a great success, with the opportunity for everyone to bring apples along to be juiced. A full report of the event will appear in next month's Lookaround.

Many thanks to local residents and Sedbergh School who allowed us to glean apples from their trees to use at the Apple Day for children's activities and to make juice for everyone to sample.

SEDBERGH & DISTRICT HISTORY SOCIETY

The first talk in this winter's programme was given by John Zant of Oxford Archaeology North. His topic was the archaeology of the A66 from Greta Bridge to Scotch Corner. In 2006/7 most of that section of the A66 was converted to dual carriageway. Under existing law the contractors had to finance an archaeological survey of the proposed route to record any sites of interest. John's talk described what that work involved and what was discovered.

Firstly research was done to read all the documentary evidence available on sites along the route and also aerial photographs were studied. This identified known sites to be investigated but left much to be discovered. The distance involved meant that it would be impossible to dig the whole length and so trial slit trenches were employed. When a site was identified the top soil was stripped off exposing the boulder clay underneath. Marks in this disclosed the outlines of enclosures, round houses and structures supported on four wooden posts. The purpose of the latter could have been to store grain away from rats or to lie out the bodies of the dead to allow their flesh to be eaten by birds. The soil removed was searched for pottery and associated seeds were later investigated to discover the environmental conditions existing at that time. Very little was found from the Bronze Age but there was an expansion of dwellings from c400 BC, the Middle Iron Age.

At one point the road was crossed by Scots Dyke an earthwork thought to stretch from the Swale at Richmond to the Tees although there is little evidence for it near the Tees. It was assumed to be a Dark Age boundary between two territories dating from the 6th and 7th century AD. However, when a small section crossing the A66 was dug it was proved to date from 900 to 100BC in the Iron Age. It probably was connected with Stanwick the site of the capital of the Brigantes tribe. This was a large area surrounded by defensive ditches which had seen a big rise in population in the 1st century AD, the period of the Roman invasion of Britain.

A small trench was also dug at Carkin Moor Roman fort which provided some 2nd century AD pottery but no trace of the Roman road was found. In the course of the whole A66 survey items that were discovered included Samian ware pottery, and from more recent times a silver spoon, some walls and boundaries, a culvert bridge and a water trough. The relative lack of finds probably reflected the lack of habitation due to the poor quality of the land and the

Lamps and candlelight

Them days we didn't have electric, we only had oil lamps, so in winter we would get up later. Kenneth Cragg
born 1936

No, no electricity. We'd candles, and maybe a single burner paraffin lamp for your living room. But otherwise it was candles here and candles there and candles everywhere! Cissy

Middleton born 1914

We [Ryecrofts hardware store Sedbergh] sold a lot of paraffin and most of my Wednesdays were taken up repairing oil lamps. There'd be a queue of a dozen or so oil lamps, Tilley lamps or Aladdin lamps, waiting to be repaired. It was a smelly job!

We had something that was better than an oil lamp, it worked on the acetylene and it gave quite a good light. I wish I'd kept it because it was brass, it was a lovely thing. And we had oil lamps as well, but to go to bed we had candles. And I used to read in bed with a candle till I heard that my father might be coming to bed and put it out quickly before he knew!

GARSDALE HARVEST SUPPER

Going for Growth

On Friday 7th October, upwards of 70 people once again met in Garsdale Village Hall for our Annual Harvest Supper. After grace was sung by Rev. Andy - with a little help from his friends - a lovely meal was enjoyed, catered for by local ladies.

This was followed by our After Dinner Speaker, Martin Lewes of BBC Radio Cumbria, who spoke of his work as a reporter for the radio station. Special mention was made of the Lockerbie tragedy and the 2001 Foot and Mouth outbreak, which made very thought provoking, and interesting listening. Thank you Martin.

Donations were requested for M.A.G. International, a charity which deals with landmines, and has been at the forefront of emergencies in Iraq, and other places in the Middle East, including Syria. In Northern Iraq in just five months, 1,100 homemade landmines were cleared by M.A.G.

The sum of £350 was raised for this worthy cause - many thanks.

The evening ended with a closing prayer from Rev. Carole. Heartfelt thanks to the ladies in charge of catering, and the gentlemen who did the "heavy work". Thank you all.

From the end of September 2015 to the end of September 2016, people were invited to undertake sponsored walks to the eleven places in the Howgills bearing the name Knott on the OS map.

The challenge was part of the process of coming together into a single congregation of the URC and Methodist Churches in Sedbergh. As a joint venture it reflected both working together and our responsibilities to look beyond ourselves. The money raised would be shared between the redevelopment project for the new church, and Christian Aid.

The challenge period for walking has now ended. There is still time to make a donation!

Many thanks to the sponsored walkers, to a number of friends who accompanied them across the hills, and to all sponsors and donors.

With reports of persons dressing as clowns and carrying weapons in the larger residential areas, patrols will deal with these people with a zero tolerance approach. ## CHURCHES TOGETHER

Sedbergh Christian Centre

Impossible Things

I've been listening to the new album by Chris Tomlin, "Never Lose Sight."

One of his songs has a bridge in which he sings,

"One word & the walls start falling.

One word & the blind will see.

One word & the sin is forgiven, cause you do impossible things!"

It got me thinking about the near impossible issue of forgiveness.

As a Christian I'm supposed to forgive people. I even ask God to forgive me praying regularly in the Lord's Prayer... "forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those that trespass against us." But it's so hard. I have one relative that just seems to know exactly what to do to wind me up & I often feel provoked, frustrated & angry at this person. But I'm called to forgive them.

Why do I find it so hard to forgive? I hate injustice. When someone says something wrong about me or does something wrong to me, I want justice. But I'm not always in a position where I really know all the facts about a situation. How often have I been angry over what I perceived as "injustice" only to discover later that I had contributed to that situation in some part? I need to remember that Jesus, who knew the hearts of men, had 12 legions of angels at his disposal (& chose not to use them), said, "Father forgive them, for they don't know what they are doing," as they nailed him to the cross & then fixed it in the ground. I don't like to admit that I'm in the wrong. If I've done something wrong, that "inner lawyer" inside me will seek to justify myself before others – the same way Adam sought to justify himself & put the blame on Eve. I find a wrong sense of pride in myself & sometimes I think too little of people. That needs constantly challenging. I need to remember that, "God created man in his own image, in the image of God he created him; male and female he created them." By having a proud & belittling attitude towards others, I am disrespecting God & his creation.

My prayer for me, & for you if you will receive it, is that God would break down walls of frustration, anger & resentment between us & our: spouses, partners, parents, grandparents, children, school friends, neighbours, work colleagues or other groups in the community. That He would open our eyes to help us see that those with whom we struggle to forgive are made in His image &, that He would help us forgive them in the same way that He has forgiven us.

If you have a problem with forgiving people, please contact one of the ministers in any of the Churches.

News from St John's Church, Cowgill and St Andrew's Church, Dent

November brings the first anniversary of the launch of a scheme which enables the churches in our area to work together ever more closely, especially when it comes to working out how to tell everybody about the good news of Jesus Christ in the wider community. This idea of the churches looking outwards found expression in Dent last July when the churches came together for the 'God is for Everybody' Service.

On Advent Sunday (November 27th), the churches will come together again in a special joint service at St Andrew's, Sedbergh to celebrate the ongoing work and the new developments for the Western Dales Mission Community - a new way for us to understand what it means to be God's people in our area, and what he wants us to do.

Services in November:

St Andrew's Dent

- 6th: 10.30am Holy Communion
- 13th: Remembrance Sunday: 10.30am Holy Communion and Act of Remembrance at the War Memorial at 11am
- 20th: 10.30am Joint Communion Service at Cowgill - Preacher: the Rev Carole Marsden
- 27th: 10.30am Joint Service for the Mission Community at Sedbergh Parish Church

St John's Cowgill

- 6th 9am: Holy Communion
- 13th: Remembrance Sunday: 2.30pm Evening Prayer and Act of Remembrance at the War Memorial
- 20th: 10.30am Joint Communion Service - Preacher: the Rev Carole Marsden
- 27th: 10.30am Joint Service for the Mission Community at Sedbergh Parish Church

Living in the Light.

Come and join this four week course beginning on Advent Sunday. The first meeting will be in Dale View, Laning, Dent at 6pm. 27th November 2016.

We shall be witnesses to a single event often given contrasting reports. When the event is God's coming to this world as a child it is not just fascinating, it is highly instructive. It opens our eyes not only to what God is like, but to how life can be lived to the full. This course explores the 'reports' of Luke, John, Mary and Paul. In doing so it engages with the distinctive nature of Christian spirituality and how we can give expression to it in our lives, thus living the light of Christ's coming.

This is one of the many York Courses presented by Canons Robert Warren and Simon Stanley who help the group to explore the themes raised by Luke, John, Mary and Paul, with input from churchgoers of different denominations.

St Mark's Church, Cautley

Our next Taize service will be on Sunday 27th November at 2.30pm. This service provides an opportunity for quiet contemplation, alternating with simple prayers and the lovely Taize chants.

Everyone is welcome.

News from the Pews

As the door burst open close to the end of our usually quiet service of Evening Prayers on a Sunday in October eyes turned towards the three youngsters who entered. No doubt they were as surprised to see us, as we were to see them. The vicar sent a few smiles their way and they settled down in the pews until the service ended a few minutes later.

Not even Andy who tends to be abreast of modern trends could help them with their quest to find “clowns with knives”. We locked the church doors feeling quite perplexed at what they could possibly be talking about.

The following day’s radio and newspaper reports made mention of this frightening craze, which seems to have come over from America. We trust the youngsters arrived home safely.

Spiders and all things dusty will be disturbed from their slumbers on our annual Boon Day, Saturday 12th November. Soup and rolls will be served for lunch. As the years roll on we are all firing on a little less steam and every little bit of help goes a long way to keeping our parish church as others and we like to see it protecting it as best we can from the ravages of time.

The bells will be rung half -muffled before the Service of Remembrance on Sunday 13th November calling all ages to come and join in this solemn and moving annual service together. The Vicar Andy McMullon will lead the service beginning at 10.30am. The names of those who gave their lives in service to their country being will be read out by one of our young people.

A couple of diary dates for you:

Tot’s Praise will be having its monthly meeting in the church at 2.30pm on Thursday 24th November. Do come along with a little person (or two) and enjoy time together with games and songs led by Vicar Andy.

The final date for your diary in November is the Christmas Fair on Saturday 26th November from 11am until 3pm. As has been the norm for the last few years it will be in the church with the usual array of craft and food stalls on offer...and, we hope, a visit from Father Christmas. Our very own St Andrew’s catering team will be on hand to provide the vital refreshments, including lunches which should keep you going whilst you shop ‘til you drop!

We look forward to welcoming you whenever you are able to join us.

EDITORS COMMENTS

Another two new Advertisers this month are Thenewsnot and Body Shop @ Home Please mention Lookaround if you visit or make any enquiries.

One or two people are dropping me an e-mail to the old address of lookaround@whicker73.freemove.co.uk. This is no longer in use and I cannot retrieve any messages from this address. Please use the current one on the front of every issue. Can you please check your system and remove the old address.

DECEMBER LOOKAROUND

Please remember that there is no January issue but a Double December one. Let us have your adverts and articles before the 19th of every month. Anything received after 19th November will not be considered for inclusion due to the increased work-load so please be early.

POSTAL LOOKAROUND

Due to the continued large copies of Lookaround being produced at over 100 pages every month, it is also heavier and the cost of Postage has increased. It is therefore necessary to increase the Postal Lookaround from £2 to £2.50 per issue for Mainland and from £4 to £6 for overseas. Sincerest apologies for this increase. Existing Postals will be honoured.

LOOKAROUND INFORMATION

The Sedbergh & District Lookaround is edited, published & distributed monthly by Dennis & Jacky Whicker & is printed by Stramongate Press. The content of The Lookaround does not reflect the views of the Editors.

Whilst every effort is made to ensure that information is correct, the Editors cannot accept any responsibility for any inconvenience caused through errors or omissions.

Copies are available from Sedbergh Information Centre, Sedbergh Mini Market, Post Office, Spar, Dent Stores &

Barbon & by Post (please enquire).

All items for Lookaround must be sent to the Sedbergh Information Centre at 72 Main Street, Sedbergh or deposited in the Lookaround Post Box there or sent to editor@sedberghlookaround.org.uk

ADVERTISING

For the benefit of advertisers, the following information will assist you.

If you wish to place an Advert in Lookaround, please include the correct money or cheque with the details & place it in the Post Box. A receipt will be issued & left in the Lookaround Tray in the Office for collection or include a SAE.

Our distribution area is the LA10 Postal District which is Sedbergh & the surrounding villages, but it is sent all round the country & the world.

We are published on the 1st of every month (except January).

February to November is printed black ink on white. The December/January issue is in full colour. All copies have a full colour cover to indicate a new issue & photographs are requested from our readers who will be credited.

We do not have whole page adverts but will allow two half page adverts opposite each other.

The Front Page is given priority to Event Adverts relevant for the appropriate month.

You can supply the information & we can create an advert for you. You can supply an example in hard copy & we will reproduce it (please mention if a particular Font is required). You can supply an original using Microsoft Publisher, a Word, a jpg or as a PDF.

If you order numerous adverts, the content can be the same every month or it can change if you are seasonal.

The closing date for new Adverts is 15th of every month. Renewed adverts & articles are 19th of every month.

Advertising rates have been updated: December 1991, December 1995, March

1997 & August 1999. (over 16 years ago.)

PERSONAL MESSAGES

These are £1 each & are for sending Good Wishes, Thank You's, Birthday Greetings, Anniversaries & any other celebration or congratulation. You may also sell personal items - not on a business basis, & also make an appeal for wanted items.

Details with respect to people Passing Away are inserted for free.

Please submit legible writing as many mistakes have been made in the past due to not being able to read properly.

GROUPS AND ORGANISATIONS

Any organisation that charges an admission, sells items or requires a donation from the public for anything at their event & wishes to include details in The Lookaround, are requested to place an Advert with us. This can be supported by text which cannot all be included in the advert. Any report after the Event is free. The request for payment for an Advert is to assist with financing The Lookaround which has a large printing expense every month. We feel that the Advertising Rates are very reasonable. All Adverts for Events automatically have the details entered into the Diary Page at the rear of The Lookaround. If organisations do not wish to Advertise with us, details of the Event will still appear on the Diary Page, but no text will be inserted.

BUSINESSES

Adverts for the Rent or Sale of property are not Personals & can only be included as a boxed Advert.

If you are a new advertiser in Lookaround & you order 3 or more adverts, you will receive one free advert & can also include some text explaining who you are, what you are, where you are, etc (which can not all go into an advert) up to about 550 words for free.

If you have more than 3 months of advertising, we will automatically send a

If anyone or any business would like to Sponsor the Birthday Gift, please contact us. Full credit will be given.
